One Voice: Empowering Life-Lesson About Adoption - Real Life Solutions For Raising Your Adopted Child Ranjanna Mariia Hvenegaard

Hello, my name is Ranjanna. I am 43 years old. I was born in Mumbai, India Sunday the 12th of March, 1972 at 2:05p.m., and adopted six months later to a lovely family in Copenhagen in Denmark.

Throughout my life, people frequently ask “how is it to be an adoptive child?” This curiosity and the fact that I believe that sharing my journey will be valuable for not only adoptive children and their families and those considering this path; but for myself as well.

I feel that this book is a wonderful opportunity to express my deep gratitude to my loving family. My two brothers Peter and Ulrik, and my sister Signe, were all born before my arrival in Denmark. My parents, Bente and Knud were brave and kind enough to bring an Indian child into their fray to provide a better life than many in Mumbai usually experience. My brother Peter is married to a lovely woman called Merete. They have three beautiful children named Jeppe, Anna and Frederik. My other brother Ulrik and his wife Ulla have two adorable kids called Carl-Christian and Clara. All of my nieces and nephews are so wonderful – caring and loving through and through. They are such blessings, as are all children. I feel deeply blessed and grateful for all of my adoptive family members for this beautiful journey and unfolding. Let’s begin...
